Does Ukraine need a long-term energy system?

More than ever, Ukraine needs support to transition towards a long-term energy system that is resilient, flexible and secure. The EU has the expertise, the ability and the will to help make that happen. Ukraine's energy systems have suffered significant damage since the full-scale invasion of 2022.

How has Ukraine's energy system changed since the invasion of 2022?

Ukraine's energy systems have suffered significant damages since the full-scale invasion of 2022. As of spring 2024, two thirds of the country's dispatchable power generation capacity has fallen under occupation, been damaged or destroyed. This has been accompanied by a coordinated destruction of the grid network.

How will BESS impact Ukraine's energy supply chain?

Meanwhile, integrating BESS will significantly enhance energy diversification and allow for flexibility in the energy supply chain. Incorporating both technologies will help to stabilise Ukraine's grid during peak demand periods, reducing the frequency and duration of power outages and ensuring uninterrupted electricity supply.

Does EBRD support Ukraine's energy security?

The European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) is supporting Ukraine's energy security by lending EUR22.3 million to private Ukrainian energy company Power One for the financing of new peaking generation capacity and battery energy storage systems (BESS).
